

4 ½. European Symposium on Pediatric Hand Surgery at Paris, 2021

Dear colleagues

The restrictions due to the Covid 19 pandemic did not allow the Rotterdam team to organize a regular European Symposium on Pediatric Hand Surgery this year. The Rotterdam meeting will be hold in 2023. Please visit their homepage <http://kinderhand.net> for refund of your booking fees.

Nevertheless, we were looking for an alternative that allows us to have a smaller symposium to discuss and learn about children's hands. We therefore decided to organize a one-day meeting, the 4 ½. European Symposium on Pediatric Hand Surgery at Paris

We were hoping to do it this November, however, the current rise of Coronavirus infections aggravates travelling restrictions and quarantine measures upon return. Due to the unpredictable situation, we look into 2021 to do the Paris meeting. We are aware that other activities are planned in 2021, such as the World Congenital meeting at St. Paul, Minn., USA. We will have to see, what activities will take place and what educational need there will be for children's hand surgery at Europe in 2021 and will plan the Paris meeting accordingly.

Updates: www.PediatricHand.com

What: Presentations, round tables and discussions on congenital upper limb anomalies and hand trauma in children

Audience: Surgeons and hand therapists

Why Paris: Many Europeans can reach Paris quickly by TGV

Organizers: Stéphane Guéro & Daniel Weber

Best regards
Daniel Weber
